LOCKED POUCH IS STOLEN HERE

Mail Sack Consigned to Falmouth Taken From Automobile Friday Evening at 7 O'clock

FOUND SOUTHWEST OF CITY

Will be Several Days Before Value of Contents is Determined—Mis-take of Thieves Evident

A locked mail pouch, consigned to Falmouth, was stolen here last night shortly before seven o'clock from the automobile used in transporting the mails to and from the trains, and this morning the mail pouch was found southwest of Rushville after the robbers had rifled the contents and cut the bag.

It will be several days before the value of the contents of the mail pouch is known as it will be necessary for postoffice officials to trace the registered and insured mail.

The pouch was brought in over the north bound Pennsylvania passenger train due here at 6:40 last night, and by mistake the mail clerk put the pouch off here instead of taking it on to Falmouth, and the Rushville locked pouch was carried by.

The several mail pouches taken off of the train were put on the automobile driven by Bert Orme, and it is the belief that someone snatched off the locked pouch as he was turning the machine around in the depot yard.

Mr. Orme missed the pouch before he had gone a square and retraced his car, but the pouch had completely disappeared by that time.

This morning Don Hilligoss, living on the George Krammes farm, southwest of Rushville called Sheriff Jones and informed him that he had found a mail pouch along the road, and that it had been slit open.

Sheriff Jones had not been apprised of the theft, but went to the Krammes farm, and brought the pouch to Rushville. It still contained a few articles of parcel post, which had been opened, but all first class mail and any other mail, had been taken.

It also was hinted that probably the robbers believed that they were getting the Rushville locked pouch, and they might have had some advance information concerning some valuable shipment. The Rushville pouch had not been received here today, and no check could be made on this theory.

The pouch for Falmouth was made up on the train between Louisville and this city, and locked, and it will be a difficult job for the postoffice inspectors to make a check of the exact contents in the pouch.

The heavy cord on the mail pouch which was fastened with a padlock, was cut, and the name plate on the pouch showed that it was intended for Falmouth.

As far as it is known there is no clue on which the postoffice department can work. It is said that there were several people around the depot last night, as it usually the case about train time.

CLINTON MINERS ON STRIKE

More Than 500 Walk Out Because of Pumper Being Discharged

(By United Press)
Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 26—More than 500 coal miners, employees of the Clinton Coal Company of Clinton, Indiana, went out on strike this morning in compliance with the strike call issued by President John Hessler of district 11, announced earlier in the week.

The strike was called by Hessler when the company refused to employ a pumper at one of their seven mines, one they recently discharged. It was contrary to the agreement between operators and miners.

Official word from Clinton stated that the miners were idle and were waiting for further orders from district officials.

MACHINE COMPLETE LOSS

Car Driven by Mrs. Sylvia Headlee Catches Fire and Burns

An automobile driven by Mrs. Sylvia Headlee, caught fire late yesterday near Blue Ridge and burned completely before it could be extinguished. Mrs. Headlee was accompanied by her son Russell. The car was an Oakland touring, and they were driving from their home in Gowdy to Blue Ridge, and just as they neared Blue Ridge, the machine caught fire. It is supposed that a short circuit in the electric wiring caused the blaze.

The two occupants escaped without any injury. Mr. Headlee, owner of the machine, carried insurance on the car, and the loss is partially covered.

ROLL CALL WORKERS ENCOURAGED TODAY

Belated Reports Coming From Townships Indicate Red Cross Membership May Reach 1,000

RIPLEY, ANDERSON DO WELL

Red Cross county Roll Call headquarters was a more optimistic place today following receipt of better news which indicates that the membership in the Rush county chapter for the coming year will be close to one thousand if not more.

More than seven hundred members could be accounted for today with the report reaching headquarters that Anderson township had 106 memberships and had not finished the canvass and that Ripley township was ready to report 150 memberships.

The sum actually received at headquarters amount to $447, but does not include the Ripley and Anderson township memberships, nor part of Jackson township's, which now totals 48. Of this number 29 memberships have been paid at headquarters. Rushville township outside the city has reported a dozen members. Some word has been received from practically every township except Posey, but scarcely any of them have completed the canvass.

Although the Roll Call has officially ended, there will be someone at headquarters next week and workers are urged to finish their soliciting and turn in their membership fees as soon as possible.

SEALS WORKERS IN SESSION HERE

Addressed by Mrs. Curtis Hodges of Indianapolis Regarding Methods to be Used

CHAIRMEN ARE ENTERTAINED

With 7 Cents Per Capita Sale Last Year to Shoot at New Record is Hoped For

Double-barred Christmas Seals workers from all parts of Rush county gathered at the court house assembly room this afternoon at two o'clock to hear an address by Mrs. Curtis A. Hodges of Indianapolis regarding methods to be employed in the local campaign.

Mrs. Hodges, together with the township chairmen, were entertained at lunch at noon at the Scanlan House and preliminaries regarding the campaign were discussed.

With a seven cents capita of the little holiday stickers last Christmas to shoot at the county organization, which is led by Mrs. Floyd Kirklin of this city, hopes to hang up a new record this year.

Mrs. Hodges in her talk this afternoon described the various methods which are used in many counties of the state in selling their quota of seals. She referred to the advance mailing of seals, which was the plan used here until last year, when a personal canvass was made and found to be much more profitable.

The proceeds from the stickers last December amounted to a sum above $1,000 and enthusiastic workers are hoping to pass this mark this year. They have Health Bonds in smaller denominations this year which are expected to aid in the raising of funds.

A share of the money realized from the sale of seals remains here to be used in anti-tuberculosis work in the county. It was this money, through the agency of the Rushville Woman's Council, which made the tuberculosis clinics possible here.

There are 3,000 deaths annually in Indiana from this disease and it is estimated, based on figures from surveys which have been made, that there are 30,000 active cases of tuberculosis in the state.

The work of the Indiana Tuberculosis association has borne fruit, however, because the deaths have been reduced one thousand annually.

The township chairmen, most of whom were present today, are as follows:

Posey, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Riggsbee; Ripley, L. E. Dyer; Walker, (Manilla precinct) Otto Gross; (Homer precinct) Miss Hoffman; Center, Miss Helen Bell; Jackson, Lowell H. DeMoss; Union, Mrs. Inez Blackledge, Mrs. Hinchman and Mrs. Oscar Reese; Richland, Otis Miller; Orange, Mrs. Brown; Anderson, Miss Mary Stewart; Noble, Mrs. Margaret Morton; Washington, Miss Mae Taylor.

SENATE CONSENT SHOULD BE SOUGHT

This is British Arms Delegation View Regarding Harding's Association of Nations

MEETS GENERAL APPROVAL

Speculation Rife as to Probable Conflict With League of Nations—Germany May Participate

Washington, Nov. 26.—President Harding should ask the Senate and the American people to approve his association of nations plan before he submits it to other nations.

This is the view of the British delegation to the arms conference expressed today in comment upon Harding's expressed hope that the present conference will develop into a permanent international association.

The British regard it as an American domestic question and will therefore refrain from expressing any opinion on it until the opinion of the American public has been manifested. Great Britain it was stated is most anxious to participate in any movement tending to establish world peace. But it was made quite clear that the British apparently recalling the Wilson League want to be shown this time that the administration speaks for the people and commands their support.

In other words, Great Britain will wait to see whether the new association idea as outlined will meet in the senate the same fate as the Wilson league of nations. Britain is a member of the league and until something better is offered will continue her membership there.

President Harding's plan for an association of nations has met with general approval from virtually all the delegations at the Arms conference. Speculation is rife among the delegates as to a probable conflict between the Wilson League and the Harding Association.

Harding's proposal for German participation in the conference apparently is approved by the majority of the delegations.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor urged that the government make some provision for tiding over unemployment that would result from a cessation of battleship construction.

American naval experts have again informed Japan they see no valid reason for increasing the ratio of capital ship tonnage to 70 percent under the program.

Premier Briand, some observers here believe, is going back to France in defeat and developments that will come in his country upon his arrival are awaited with intense interest.

GERMANY WOULD JOIN IN ARMS PARLEY

This Information Comes From Sources Close to New Berlin Charge in Washington

TO TALK LAND ARMAMENTS

Washington, Nov. 26—Germany is prepared to send to the Washington conference a small economic military delegation.

This commission will be ready frankly to discuss land disarmament problems and reparations, if the latter is included under broadened scope of the arms session.

This information was obtained by the United Press today from sources close to Edmond Von Therman, new German charge, here.

It would carry with it German authority undoubtedly for satisfactory guarantees against the "German aggression" which Briand says France fears.

The committee would be equipped to consider the points Briand raised. More important however to the German mind would be a discussion of the reparations question. The Wirth government contends Germany cannot meet its reparations payments after new spring under the present system.

VICTORIES CHEER FATTY ARBUCKLE

Appears in Court Today Apparently in Good Spirits Following Successes on Friday

DEFENSE TO REST MONDAY

Harry Barker of Gary, Ind., Miss Rappe's Old Sweetheart, on The Witness Stand Today

By M. D. TRACY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 26.—Fatty Arbuckle was on hand early for his trial today, smoking a personally rolled cigarette and apparently in good spirits.

The victories which his attorneys won yesterday undoubtedly had cheered him. Gavin McNab, Arbuckle chief counsel, announced at the opening of the court that the defense expected to close its case Monday. At McNab's request the depositions taken in Chicago and New York were unsealed in open court but were not read at that time.

Harry Barker of San Francisco and Gary, Ind., Miss Virginia Rappe's old sweetheart, was called for cross examination. He testified that on several occasions when he saw Miss Rappe become hysterical she had partaken of liquor in small quantities. She had one attack, he stated at Rector's cafe in Chicago. "Virginia and I were dining together," he said. "It was about 7:30 p. m. She drank gin and orange juice. She had another attack also at South Haven, Michigan," he stated. "Her grandmother was with us at the summer resort and I had not seen her drink anything. In Chicago I frequently took her to dinner."

"She often drank liquor at dinner. I took her several times to the Bismarck Garden in Chicago." He was asked if he took her and Miss Katherine Fox of Chicago and a gentleman from Australia, to the Bismarck garden in 1913. "I do not remember," he said. "I tried to keep Virginia from drinking."

In answer to the question of number of visits to the cafe, he stated that he had taken her hundreds of times. He denied that he had been engaged to Miss Rappe and she had terminated the engagement. Reverting to the question of liquor, he could not remember any Chicago cafe refusing to sell Miss Rappe liquor.

Philo McCullough, film actor of San Francisco, described a party at his home in Hollywood two years ago. Miss Rappa was there, he said. She brought liquor herself. It was gin. She drank some and became noisy. Someone remarked that they liked her garters. She said, "Do you like them?" and began tearing off her stockings. Then she tore her waist. A woman pinned it on and

Attorney General of Illinois Brings Actions in Equity Against Former State Treasurers

FIVE MILLIONS ALLEGED DUE

Governor Len Small, Who is Under Indictment, Among Defendants —Connivance Alleged

Springfield, Ills., Nov. 26.—Charging that approximately $5,000,000 of interest on state funds are unaccounted for, Attorney General Edward J. Brundage today filed six suits in equity against five former state treasurers.

The actions are in the nature of bills of accounting and discovery and do not specifically charge the embezzlement of the enormous sum by the former state treasurers.

The suits, four of which were filed today in the Sangamon county circuit court and two in the Cook county circuit court, are directed against former state treasurers Fred E. Sterling, Len Small, William Ryan, Jr., Edward Mitchell and Andrew Russell and their bondsmen. State Auditor Russell is the defendant in two suits because he held the office of state treasurer for two separate intervening terms. The suits against Sterling, Russell and Small were filed in the Sangamon county circuit court and those against Mitchell and Ryan in the Cook county circuit court.

The sterling bill alleges that shortly after Governor Small became treasurer, he entered upon the execution of a plan, in connivance with the late Senator Edward C. Curtis and Verne S. Curtis, to use large portions of the public moneys for their own personal profit. In furtherance of such plan, the bill says, large sums of money were turned over by Small to Curtis and no account kept of it in the books of the treasurers' office. When Sterling became treasurer the bill says, the money continued under control of Curtis and amounted to $10,000,000. It also is alleged that at the expiration of Small's term he removed from the treasurers' office all books and records relating to deposits and loans of public moneys and the interest and profits realized thereon.

When Sterling became state treasurer the bill says the arrangement continued and that the money turned over to Curtis was carried on the books in an account characterized as safe fund and that Curtis issued certificates of deposit for the amounts turned over to him. There certificates were purported to have been issued by the "Grant Park bank". The bill says there was no such bank. A large part of this money was invested in notes of Armour & Co and Swift & Co. and the bill charges that Curtis collected approximately $2,000,000 of interest from the packing companies.

The Sterling bill charges Sterling collected approximately $1,000,000 which is unaccounted for. In addition it charges that during Sterlings term, there was at all times several million of dollars on deposit with Dunlap, Russell and Co. at Jacksonville and that the treasurers office contains no record whatever showing payment of any interest to the state by Dunlap Russell & Co. The bill says the records show that the average monthly balance carried on the books during Sterlings term were approximately $21,500,000.

AMERICANS THREATENED

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 26.—American officials in Texas have been threatened with death if Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti are executed in accordance with the sentence passed upon them on charges of murder arising out of a Massachusetts payroll robbery, according to a letter received by Consul John Dye of Juarez.

MOSCOW IS BEST DISCIPLINED CITY

On The Surface There is Peace, But Underneath There is Untold Sorrow and Destitution

FACED WITH STARVATION

First Installment of American Relief Half a Million Dollars And More is Assured

By EDWIN W. HULLINGER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Moscow (By Mail)—Moscow, under Soviet, rule is today the quietest, most orderly and best-disciplined city in Europe. Its streets are safer after nightfall than those of New York, Chicago or Kansas City. They are better policed than any city of that size in the United States.

On the surface, there is peace, plenty of food and other comforts in Moscow. But to get them you must have money or power. Most of the people in Moscow have neither. Beyond the Kremlin's beautiful minarets, below the golden cupolas of Moscow's 1,600 churches, there is untold sorrow, immeasured destitution. Moscow, like every other great city, has always its poverty-stricken. These have been swelled in Moscow by many former rich and middle-class.

You can walk for hours through the crowded streets and never see a smile. Friends greet each other sympathetically, but gravely and without smiles. The middle-class are clothed in shabby garments, the poor in tatters.

Both Americans and Russians are trying to help the countless thousands facing starvation. But it is a tremendous task. The first installment of American relief was brought by Secretary Hillman of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. He brought half a million dollars and assurances that more was coming. Not a little of this had been contributed by clothing workers in New York City, where many, only a few years from Russia, are working.

Meantime, workmen are renovating The Hermitage, formerly one of the largest and most luxuriant restaurants in Moscow. It will be converted into a kitchen, where 30,000 children will be fed daily. Relief workers found the condition of the children of Moscow less desperate than that of the little ones in the Volga region. Therefore the first American efforts were centered in the Volga region. The American commission hopes soon to get three food trains of 30 cars each into the famine region every week.

BLUE BLOODS ARE COMBED, MANICURED

Ten Thousand Entries in International Live Stock Exposition Opening in Chicago Today

INDIANA IN THE SCORING

(By United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Thousands of livestock breeders and readers were here today for the international livestock exposition opening. Ten thousand entries of the world's best "blue blooded" stock were combed and manicured for the exhibit.

Agricultural leaders from southern countries and Europe were here. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace will spend several days in Chicago during the show.

College men from twenty-one states vied for honors in the judging pits today in the students judging contests.

Initial honors in stock judging went to Colorado when representatives of that state won the non-collegiate judging contest open to boys and girls from 10 to 18 years of age, scoring 1095 points out of a possible 1200. Robert Phelps of Greeley, Colo., won individual honors with 384 points. Glenn Buesinger of Taylorville, Ills., was second with 381. Other states finished in the following order: Kansas 1067; Indiana 976; California 959; Georgia 895; Penna 886; Iowa 864 and Michigan 836.

BIG QUESTIONNAIRE FOR SELLING STOCK

State Law Pries Into Methods of Business Operation For Firms Selling Stocks

RECORDS HAVE 21 SHEETS

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 26.—The state of Indiana sticks its nose into the private business of every officer in a partnership, firm or corporation seeking to sell stock in Indiana before the stock sale is authorized.

Under the blue sky law being administered by the state securities commission, the state learns and has in legal record the salary every officer draws, the amount of insurance and the kind carried by the applicant, and the liabilities and assets.

Twenty-one sheets of legal script paper comprise the questionnaire submitted to organizations seeking permission to sell stock in this state.

After enumerating all probable assets, a firm might claim, there is provision for listing other assets and the application blank says "be specific." It asks the cash on hand, the cash in banks, and even "good will" under the heading of assets.

It asks how much money is set aside for promotion, salaries, commissions, etc.

Officers of the applicant organizations must tell where they were born and when, what salaries they received, their business and residence addressed where they worked for the last five years and the reasons for change in employment and whether they have ever been subjected to litigation and how much time they will devote to the business.

And every answer is sworn to before a notary public.

Chicago—It took a letter twenty-five years to reach Jonas Madison telling him he was elected police magistrate. The letter was mailed on May 11 1897 and reached him today.

New York—Edna Wallace Hopper, stage favorite 20 years ago, didn't want to grow old. She appeared with a fresh and youthful face. Plastic surgery, she said.

Chicago—In the excitement of a wild day in the Chicago board of trades pit a trader lost his false teeth. They dropped into a fellow traders hand. The owner has failed to call for them.

COMMUNITY FAIRS ARE BECOMING POPULAR

State Superintendent of Public Instruction States Many Are Being Conducted at School Houses

STIMULATION OF INTEREST

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 26 Community fairs are becoming popular over the state, according to word reaching the office of the state superintendent of public instruction. Many of these fairs are now being conducted at school houses in various parts of the state.

One of the most recent was that at the Franklin school in Seward township, Kosciusko county and which was largely attended by patrons of the school and persons from a distance.

Two of the big features of the fair were exhibits of farm products and school work.

According to persons who have promoted the idea it has resulted in a stimulation of interest on the part of farm boys and girls in farm life and the opinion has been expressed by many school authorities that the carrying out of the idea, will have a vastly beneficial effect in keeping boys, in particular, on the farm.

AMERICANS OPEN SCHOOL

More Trouble For Motorists

The new regulations governing automobile headlights, recently announced by the secretary of state, appear to be another one in the long list of nuisances which someone in authority figures out to worry automobile drivers and owners.

The regulations appear to be wholly useless with the exception that they provide a good source of new business for the headlight concern which gets the approval of the state authorities.

The purpose of the new headlight regulations could be attained by simply enforcing the old laws now in effect—compelling motorists to dim their lights when they meet another car and compelling the proper use of the spotlight.

There is little question but that automobile owners who have shown no regard for headlight laws, have brought about the present stringent regulations. The way some people drive, with the full glare of their headlights throwing blinding light in the face of an approaching driver at night, is admittedly an evil which should be overcome. A few arrests for this sort of conduct might have a good effect.

When automobile owners discard their present lenses and put on those which are supposed to have the O. K. of the state, they may find in a few months that they have not accomplished anything by the change for the average policeman or constable has no means of applying the test to lights to determine whether they fit the state regulations. Besides, the lens which is sanctioned today may fall from grace tomorrow and more new lenses be necessary.

Land Force Reduction a Poser

The problem of reaching an agreement upon the reductions of land forces will be by far the most difficult question concerning armaments with which the conference will be confronted. France is understood to take the position that her armies can not be reduced until Germany has fulfilled all the military provisions of the Versailles Treaty, and until the menace of the Russian hordes has been removed. Germany at present has a regular army of 100,000 men and 150,000 military police. They are all highly trained soldiers, capable of becoming non-commissioned officers in the event of a general German mobilization. It is believed by some that Germany could put an army of 5,000,000 men in the field, the nucleus of which would be the quarter of a million men now under arms.

Russia has 550,000 infantry troops under arms, and 21 divisions of cavalry averaging 4,000 men to each division. She has available 5,000,000 more men who could be put into the field if equipment were at hand. It is not beyond the bounds of possibility that the German government may go to pieces, the German people either fall a prey to or join hands with the Soviets, and the western frontier of France suddenly be menaced by a Slav-Turk horde that would constitute as great a danger as confronted it in 1914. It is possible that a scheme for the reduction of armies may be worked out, but there is far more reason for maintaining large forces of men in some countries, for a time, than there is for keeping huge navies on the seas.

We are glad to see so many politicians hanging onto the fringe of the Washington conference. They may learn how to say much in a few words.

One of the most embarrassing moments in a man's life is when he tries to make a fool of another and finds that he himself is a bigger one.

Some people are experts at exposing the faults that others do not possess.

Poor relations, however, are not always poor to those who have less.

Home Journeys
To Foreign Lands

Take a Trip to France
By DAVID L. BLUMENFELD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 26—Take the elevator to the seventh floor of the New Willard Hotel and you are in France.

Here is the headquarters of the French delegation and from morning till night—and even into the far hours of early dawn—dainty made-moiselles scurry along the corridors, papers in hand, to wattle away on typewriters for the honor of La France and for the peace of future nations.

There is no mistaking that floor. Even if by chance you should be wanting the fourth—where the Belgian delegates have their habitat—there would be no mistaking that accented, which grows nowhere but on the Boulevard Des Italiens or the Rue ed Rivoli when the Cathedral clocks of Paris are chiming the noon hour.

"Can you direct me to Monsieur le Delegate So and So?" you ask the pretty midinet seated with a list of rooms by her side at the end of the corridor. Two blue eyes gaze into yours, there is a frond of skirts and with a "But certainly, Monsieur", Mademoiselle takes you along the corridor knocks at one of the many labelled doors and introduces you to the delegate of your choice. No fuss, no hindrance—the politesse of Paris in the modernity of Washington.

The beauty of that floor is that you never know whom you are going to meet in the corridors. Briand has a habit of popping in and out of its various doors. Viviani is just as likely to step off the elevator as you step in—there are very many places in and out of Washington where you may spend a less interesting five minutes.

And maybe, if Monsieur uses his very best French accent and has a really tragic thirst, * * *

Churchless Town
Has Sunday School

(By United Press)
Walcott, Ia., Nov. 26—The most completely atheistic community in the United States—not in Greenwich Village nor New England intellectual circles, but in this sturdy German-American hamlet of 700—has been invaded by the Sunday School. There hasn't been a sermon from a pulpit in twenty-five years. A church started here twenty-six years ago, failed and the building is now used to store farm implements. Walcott was settled back in 1851 by a group of Holstein men from the German-Danish frontier, who came here to escape religious intolerance.

But women, the wives of agnostics, wanted their children to have the advantages of a Sunday School. The wife of the superintendent of schools, a newcomer, started one with twenty kiddies a month. The next Sabbath 55 children attended.

Card games and dances, old fashioned square dances, are the favorite form of amusement in Walcott. Sunday is the usual day for dances, and frequently the entertainments last until 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning.

"What harm is there in dancing?" asks the mayor. "People come here from church towns to dance with us on Sunday."

By HENRY L. FARRELL

New York, Nov. 26.—Uncle Sam's annual family fuss between the Army and the Navy will be staged here on the Polo Grounds this afternoon.

Perhaps the greatest gathering of dignitaries that ever graced an athletic contest will be sitting along the sidelines when the eleven of West Point and Annapolis take the field.

President Harding and his cabinet and staff, representatives of all the foreign powers here for the disarmament congress, Marshal Foch, the great Allied leader, Admiral Beatty, the lord of the North Sea and the rank and file of the United States army and navy will make the list of spectators perhaps the greatest collective gathering of history.

The Army-Navy game is always the greatest spectacle of the sport year, but it will be more than that this year. In addition to presenting the greatest of stage settings, the gridiron warriors of both academies promise to exhibit one of the best games of the year. Both have strong, powerful teams and both play in their annual battle like the whole world is at stake.

The usual prologue to the game will be staged. This year it should be complete to the elaborate point. The United States Marine band will be there to play for the regiments and midshipmen and cadets as they march in, circle the field in their perfect columns and take their places in the stands.

The midshipmen and the navy following will occupy the north stands with the Cadets and the Army under the shelter of the south field stands. Between the halves, Secretary Weeks of the Army and Secretary Denby of the Navy will meet in midfield. Back of them will be the traditional Army mule and the bleating Navy goat. Marshal Foch will watch the first half from the Army side and will then cross over to the Navy as a mark of neutrality.

The two squads arrived yesterday and went through a signal and kicking drill on the grounds. Both coaches announced their squads in perfect condition.

The usual rush for tickets was far heavier than in the past. All the tickets, however, have been sold for weeks and the "poor public" without any army or navy connections was out in the cold. Even the scalpers were without tickets, due to the careful manner in which the two academies distributed the tickets.

The non-partisan fans were favoring the Navy with odds of seven to five. The midshipmen were favored to win because they have lost only one game and that to the greatest team in the east, Penn State, while the Army lost to Yale and Notre Dame and made a rather poor showing in other games.

ODD FELLOWS STEP INTO FAST COMPANY

Independent Team Meets Moscow
Here Next Tuesday Night—Shelbyville Star With Invaders

CURTAIN-RAISER AT 7.15

The Odd Fellows basketball team will again step out in some fast company here Tuesday night, when the Moscow team comes for a game at the Modern Appliance gymnasium. The local independent team has been going through practice games this week, and Coach Kirkpatrick has been ironing out the defective places which were shown in the game against Sandusky here last Tuesday.

Moscow always has had a good team, and this year they have been playing good ball, losing a game last night at Richmond by the score of 43 to 32. Richeson, star player on last year's Shelbyville high school team, is playing with Moscow and was the bright star last night at Richmond.

The Odd Fellows will have a string of twelve players Tuesday night, and it is expected that five of them can be picked out to hold down the Orange township team.

The curtain raiser will be played between the Presbyterian and Christian church Sunday school teams at 7.15 o'clock.

DEFEATED BY LEGION FIVE

Moscow Independents Lose at Richmond Friday Night, 43 to 32

The American Legion team of Richmond won their opening game last night, when they defeated the Moscow team of this county by a score of 43 to 32. Both teams put up a scrappy game and Simmonds, center, who also is a center for the Carthage Yankee Five team, led the scoring for Richmond with eleven points. The Moscow team had Richeson of Shelbyville in their line-up at forward and he made 12 points. The Gosnell brothers also assisted in scoring. The score at the first half was 27 to 15, and Richmond maintained the comfortable margin all of the way through.

The game was played on the large coliseum floor in Richmond, and the Moscow team was handicapped by the large floor.

LAST GAME IS CANCELLED

Greensburg Notifies Arlington Team Can't Play Sunday

The Arlington Athletic club was disappointed again when Greensburg cancelled the football contest which was to be played in Greensburg on Sunday. Arlington was unfortunate throughout the season with having teams cancel on short notice, but even at that the team played seven games, won three, lost three and tied one.

The season is now closed as far as football is concerned, and the management reports a good financial season. As soon as the gymnasium in Arlington is completed, the players will begin basketball practice.

GREENFIELD IS HELD TO 8 POINTS

Get Away to Flying Start With Three
Point Lead But is Soon Stopped
By the Locals

RUSHVILLE IN HARD LUCK

Had Five Shots to Greenfield's One,
But They Rolled Out—Visitors
Score 2 Points Last Half

The Greenfield basketball team, after getting away to a flying start, Friday night, fell down as the game went on, and Rushville high school forced ahead, leaving the visitors trailing with 8 points while the locals netted 24 when the final whistle blew.

In the preliminary game the Laurel high school also was snowed under by the second team from the local high school by the score of 22 to 5.

Greenfield started out last night at a fast clip, and displayed real basketball for a few minutes, but they could not hold up their pace, and the locals edged in on their passing, and with their steady gait managed to go in the lead, and kept a lead throughout the game after the first five minutes.

Soon after the toss up in the beginning, Pugh fouled, and Huffman for Greenfield made the first marker on the free throw. In a few seconds later, Conklin for Greenfield came through for a field goal, putting the visitors in the lead 3 to 0.

Headlee, who started at center for Rushville counted the first marker, when he worked the ball down to the goal and made two points. Then Casady hooked the basket for another finger and put Rushville in the lead 4 to 3, and from this time on, Greenfield began to lag behind in points.

The visiting team played a good defensive game and were busy fighting for a lead, but the locals had the ball in their territory most of the time, and displayed some clever team work.

It would be safe to say that Rushville had five points to Greenfield's one shot at the basket during the game, but most of the shots for Rushville were the kind that hit the rim of the basket and bounce off.

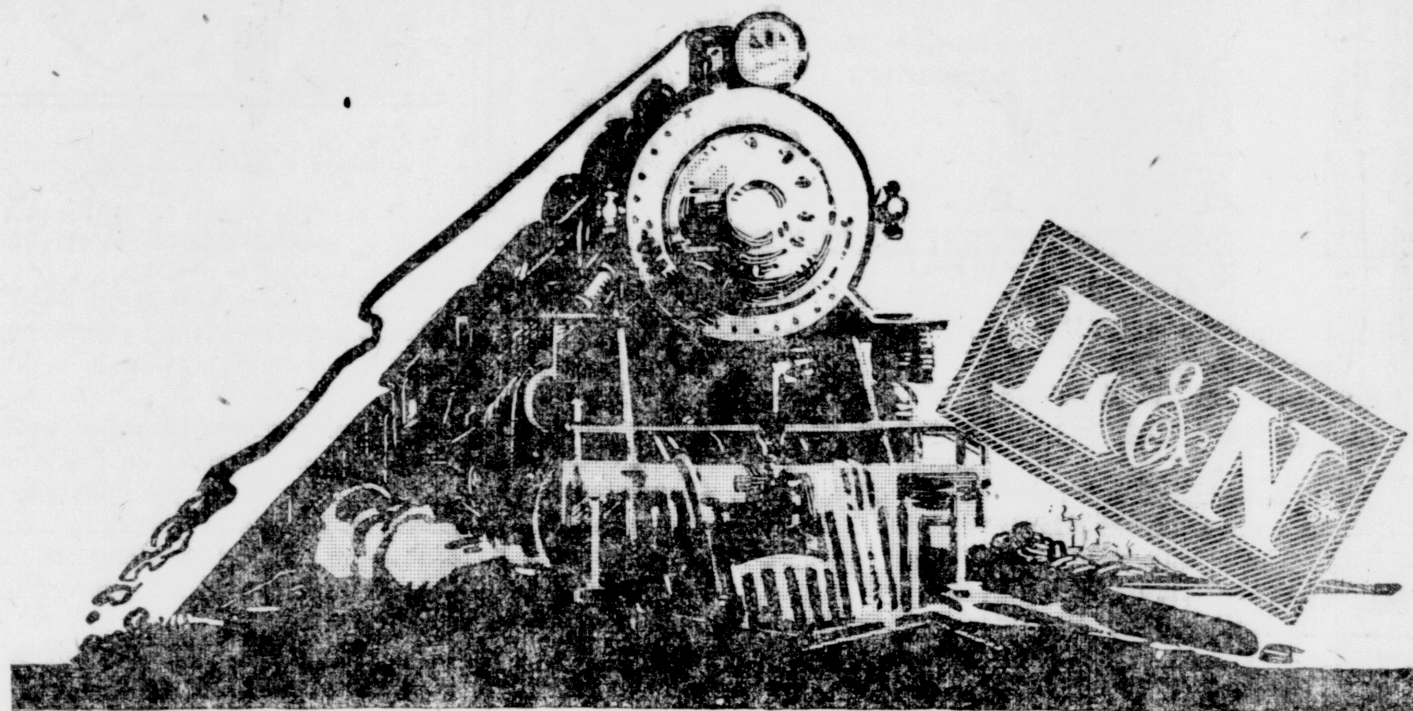

The first half ended 10 to 6 with Rushville leading. Headlee at center went out of the game before the first half ended, and his place was taken by Sparks.

In the last half Rushville boosted their score up to 20 before Greenfield could count, and they made their only score in the last half when Huffman got through for a field goal. Rushville made 14 points in the last half and Greenfield made two.

The visiting team played a good game considering the fact that they have had no practice on account of their gymnasium being torn up, and the only scrimmage they had before coming to Rushville was last Wednesday when Pendleton beat them by the score of 22 to 14. Greenfield has several players that will develop into good stars and on February 11, when Rushville plays in that city, they no doubt will have a hard contest on their hands.

Phillips at floor guard for Rushville shows considerable improvement with each game, and last night accounted for ten points, as well as being in the game constantly on the floor. Casady was closely guarded last night, and was off in hitting the basket. Pugh at forward also looms up well, and handled his passing in good style, and also has a good eye for the goal.

Headlee sustained an injury last night in the first half that put him out of the game, and Sparks held down the pivot position, but was

TEACH PRACTICAL THINGS IN SCHOOL

This is Being Done Through Movies
Miss Julia Landers of Indianapolis Stated Today

ARE TAUGHT THEORY FIRST

Child Can Observe Through The Eyes
Better Than Through The Ears
in Long Drawn Out Description

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Nov. 26.—Children attending school in Indiana are beginning to get practical experience in the school room.

They can travel with Homer in his wanderings or with Columbus as he discovers America. Visiting the great industries or travelling the seven seas is being made easy for them.

Children with foreign-born parents can see America at work so they may develop ambitions to be Americans.

"This is being done through movies," Miss Julia Landers of the Indianapolis department of public schools said today. Miss Landers formerly was democratic national committee woman from Indiana.

Lessons from text books are first taught the children so they may learn the theory she said; then the lesson is visualized by motion pictures.

In reading a lesson or listening to a lecture the child gets a premature vision or no vision at all and soon forgets, Miss Landers said. A child can observe through the eyes better than through the ears in a long drawn out description, she said.

Today the schools are crowded and the teacher is unable to give personal help that is necessary to clarify hazy impressions, Miss Landers said, and the movie reaches all children with a true imprint upon every mind.

The result, she said, is that the average grade in schools where films are shown have already jumped twenty-five percent.

"United We Stand, Divided We Fall"

Without unity and team work in bidding, Auction Bridge can never be made an interesting or a brilliant game.

The rules given here for bidding should, in a measure, be memorized, so that even when playing with a stranger, he has the right to assume that your bidding is along the lines generally accepted as conventional and standard.

In considering a spade or heart make, the dealer should be influenced by the general strength of the hand, and by the number of honors he holds in these suits.

Holding four or five honors, spades or hearts should be bid, unless there are four aces in the same hand.

A spade or heart bid with less than two honors is not advisable, unless the hand contains great strength in that suit, or strength in the other suits. Honor score made against the hand will usually exceed its trick value.

The opening bid of one spade or heart suggests the trump and two quick tricks toward the defeat of any bid the opponent may make. In bidding this hand, should contain not less than four tricks (better five) with three of them in the trump suit.

The opening bid of two spades or hearts says control of that suit and quick trick in another suit. In bidding this, hand should contain not less than six tricks and six trumps, including high honors, for declarer is usually left in his bid.

The opening bid of three or four spades or hearts positively demands that suit. It shows a willingness to play that suit, and a desire to shut out an adverse informative bid of adversaries. In bidding this, hand should contain seven tricks and seven trumps, including high honors and a practical surety of making game with but slight assistance from partner.

It is advisable in a suit bid to hold a top honor at least, but the state of the score will often justify a bid of a long holding and the under honors at head.

Standard For Major Suit Bid

A One Bid demands:

Miss Lois Miller was delightfully surprised Wednesday evening at her home northeast of the city with an informal party. There were about thirty five guests present. A Thanksgiving luncheon was served after which the evening was spent in games and contests.

Mrs. C. H. Parsons will be hostess for the Monday Circle Monday afternoon at her home in North Main street. Mrs. Maud Green will prepare a paper on "How is the World's Coffee Cup Filled?" and Mrs. Edith Beale will give a talk on "How Important is the Rubber Industry?"

Mrs. Thomas Kessler entertained a number of young people last evening at her home in West First street, honoring her guest, Miss Edith Grove of Connersville. Games were enjoyed during the evening and light refreshments were served. The guests were Mrs. Amos Roger and two daughters Edith and Wanda, Miss Mary Belle Cox, Miss Elsie Hankins, Miss Cornelia Smith and the honored guest, Miss Groves.

Miss Josephine Scholl entertained with a three course luncheon at one o'clock yesterday, honoring her house guest, Miss Susan Stephenson of Louisville, Ky. Covers were laid for twelve. Thanksgiving decorations and favors of yellow were used. The following guests were present: Martha Fanning, Jean Sparks, Helen Thomas, Lavinna Compton, Frances Bowen, Janet Dean, Marjorie Clark, Mary Louise Wyatt, Phyllis Casady, Margaret Bell, Lillian Mullins and Susan Stephenson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Baldrige and daughter Mary of Arlington entertained the following guests Thursday with a pitch-in Thanksgiving dinner: Mrs. Armina Carter and daughter Alberta of Burlington, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. William Merrill of Connersville, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wiley and daughter Marcella of Newcastle, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Wiley and family of near Greensburg, Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Lower and son, Mr. and Mrs. Denny Whittaker of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Logan of near New Salem, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Farlow and family of this city and Mr. and Mrs. William Merrill of southwest of the city.

1. Five or more, headed by A. K. A. Q., or K. Q., and one quick trick in a side suit.

2. Five or more, headed by A. or K. J., and 13 quick tricks in a side suit.

3. Five or more, headed by K. or Q., and two quick tricks in a side suit.

A Two Bid demands:
1. Five or more, headed by four honors and one quick trick in a side suit.

A Three or Four Bid demands:
An unusual hand, very strong and long holding, with chance for game.

Never count a singleton in the strong trump hand as a trick winner. It will prevent an adverse run of that suit only at the cost of a winning trump, and may prove a great source of weakness, as each lead of that suit by adversaries threatens your control of the trump situation by the force.

Never overlook the advantage of a singleton in the weak hand, as it will usually prove valuable as a trick winner, especially if you hold three or four small trumps.

Standard For Spade or Heart Make

1. Six and three honors, even though they are the under honors.

2. Five and two top honors, and trick in another suit.

3. Five and three top honors.

4. Four, all honors.

5. Four, three honors and tricks in other suits.

6. Any seven of the spade or heart is a much disputed make as the original or free bid.

Ankles in Mourning

London, Nov. 26—Feminine ankles apparently have gone into mourning. The bright red, green, blue or tan silk stockings that used to brighten the London streets have disappeared.

Stroll along Bond street or Regent street any afternoon and for every gay pair of ankles you see you will count at least four black ones.

The disappearance of the bright colors is credited to the sudden craze for black that is sweeping through the dress world, a craze that is largely ascribed to stocks of black material accumulated by the great Paris houses for purposes of mourning during the war which the houses are now attempting to unload.

Nor does the craze for black stop with stockings and frocks, but has penetrated to the realm of the "underneath's".

VICTORIES CHEER FATTY ARBUCKLE

then she put on her coat and went home.

On cross-examination McCullough testified that many times he had been Arbuckle's guest at his home. The last time was two or three months ago, he said.

The defense was jubilant as court opened today. It promised to offer testimony which would make the proceedings sparkle with stories of gay life parties. They were to be woven about one pivotal point—a claim that Virginia Rappe was subject to hysteria which caused her to disrobe or tear her clothing not once, but scores of times.

Harry B. Barker, of Gary, Indiana, and San Francisco, an "old flame" for the movie beauty when she was a girl of some 15 years living in Chicago, was expected to be recalled at the opening of the session today. He was to continue his account of half a dozen instances where in his presence, Miss Rappe became hysterical and acted as she was alleged to have done at Arbuckle's pajama party.

The defense contemplated introducing this evidence to build up a claim that when Miss Rappe indulged in only small quantities of liquor and oft times when she did not drink at all, she was likely to indulge as most irrational action as a result of physical ailments which started almost in childhood.

A closely guarded galaxy of pretty girls and men was on hand in the witness room ready to be called to the stand. They are folks from the movie studios who knew Miss Rappe and their evidence will be a recital of Miss Rappe's habits and her alleged affliction and character statements for Arbuckle.

An extra squad of six-foot policemen from south of "the slot" whose business it is to handle the "toughs" of San Francisco's famed "South of the Market" district, has been called to assist the regular hall of justice police in handling the huge crowds that storm the doors daily.

More than half of those who apply for little blue cars which entitle the bearer to see Arbuckle on trial and hear the latest model 1921 scandal are women.

The trial thus far has proven a strange mixture of comedy, tragedy and technical detail.

Just as the action starts and the fire works are ready to blaze in walks a bespectacled physician and lectures to the court for hours on anatomy. Then suddenly the director trots out a new character who may parade a word picture of a vision in pink and white silk undies dancing merrily across a bed room; a convivial party who had occasion to observe the detail in the garters some one wore; or a recital of how Fatty Arbuckle could "kid" the hired help.

Then interest quickens. The maids and matrons, and the old men and the young cup their ears forward, anxious not to miss a single word; the bailiff calls for order and out goes some unruly spectator.

Roscoe Arbuckle's duty seems to be wearing a blue Norfolk suit and a gravellook and always keeping a Red Cross button in his coat lapel. Years of training before the movie camera have fitted him for his role in the drama. He sits, a big, bulky, silent figure changing expression only now and then, looking a witness square in the face.

Once in a while he smiles, a little boyish smile—or turns to his wife, two rows behind him in the court room and nods to her.

Like a good actor, he plays his part well.

Judge West was sentenced to two years in federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, the heaviest sentence imposed.

Richardson took the next heaviest with a year and a day. On the others Judge Anderson imposed jail sentences as follows:

Tam, Brooks, Hiles, McWilliams, Albert and Edward Burgess, and Gillam, six months each and Mullendore four months.

Originally fourteen defendants were named in the action. Government attorneys together with Judge West and Othello Smith, city prosecutor, have given protection to bootleggers in illicit booze for $15 a week. Smith was named also but jumped his $5,000 bond.

AMUSEMENTS

Douglas Bill at Princess

There will be a double comedy program on at the Princess again today, with the showing of Ben Turpin in "Love and Doughnuts" and with the feature picture of Douglas Fairbanks, "When the Clouds Roll By".

Big things are always looked for when the motion picture fan goes to see Douglas Fairbanks. Everyone knows that his productions will be filled with the inimitable Fairbanks' stunts, but he exceeded everything he ever did in his life in the gaudy, clever comedy, "When the Clouds Roll By".

From start to finish "When the Clouds Roll By" is a typical Fairbanks' production, splendid in its every detail. The story has a lot of action, heaps of love interest, suspense galore and that ever looked for ultimate justification, or in other words, the happy ending. To win his point "Doug" is compelled to go through no end of hazardous stunts of the most exceptional order, keeping his followers on edge all the time. Not too much credit can be given him for the enormity of his settings, and no one will ever forget the wonderful scenes of the flooding of the little town, all of which was constructed for the occasion.

The choice of cast for this picture was indeed a pleasing one for the work of all the leading characters was very well done. Surrounding Mr. Fairbanks are Frank Campan, Ralph Lewis, Captain Herbert Grimwood, Albert MacQuarrie, Kathleen Clifford and Daisy Robinson. The direction of the picture under Victor Fleming's supervision is to be complimented for the photography was wonderful and the shots unique.

"The Last Chance"—Mystic

Franklyn Farnum will be seen in "The Last Chance", at the Mystic theatre today. The story of this picture deals with the experiences of a red-blooded young westerner who places his love on the wrong woman. The lady in question marries another, but learns too late that there is a vast difference between men. At the same time the young hero also learns that there is a vast difference between women and marries another girl. But love, even in the movies, does not run smoothly, and before the picture gives out its last flicker the hero gives an exhibition of what Yankee pluck and grit, as well as American humor can do for a man who is suffering from sunburn and love sickness. Throughout the picture the ingenious William E. Wing, who wrote the story of "The Last Chance", has furnished the star with countless opportunities to thrill the audience with agility and daring. The management of the Mystic Theatre have secured this picture at considerable expense and are considering the advisability of giving several morning matinees in order not to disappoint the large number of local movie fans, who would otherwise be unable to see Franklyn Farnum in his greatest picture.

HOLY SEE MAY JOIN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Severe Opposition That Would be Aroused in Various Quarters Prevents Vatican Taking Steps

POPE CHERISHED THIS HOPE

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Nov. 26.—In the recent formal decision of the Italian Popular (or Catholic) party to throw the whole weight of its influence in favor of the League of Nations and the International Labor Bureau, Italian politicians not only profess to see the Hand of His Holiness, but also to see the first step of the Holy See towards eventual admission to the League of Nations.

That Pope Benedict has cherished this hope ever since President Wilson first gave utterance to the idea of a society of nations has never been secret. The only thing that has prevented the Vatican from taking definite steps towards that end has been the certainty of severe opposition that would be aroused in various quarters, and especially in Italy—at least as long as the Vatican-Quirinal question remains unsettled.

When, the past summer, there was summoned at Geneva an international conference for stricken Russia, in which the League of Nations, the Red Cross and other similar international associations participated, Pope Benedict for the first time in years had the Vatican officially represented.

Later, when the League of Nations assembly convened at Geneva in September, His Holiness exchanged friendliest notes with President Kamebeck. Still later Pope Benedict placed at the disposal of the League one million lire for distribution on behalf of the Russian famine sufferers.

And now the Popular or Clerical party, which in the three short years of its existence has become the next strongest political party in Italy after the Socialists, has adopted as one of the fundamental planks of its platform the party's whole-hearted support of the League of Nations.

NO 5c FARE YET

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Temporary injunction, restraining the city and the Illinois commerce commission from enforcing the five cent fare order for street cars, was issued by Federal Judge George A. Carpenter. The court required the car companies to furnish bond of $50,000, and set the case for hearing Dec. 2. Lawyers for the traction officials stated that the five cent order is confiscatory.

MAY END DEADLOCK SPECIAL SESSION OVER POLICIES REGARDED SURE

Crown Prince Will be Called Upon Immediately to Give Decision For or Against Democracy

INSISTS ON 10% INCREASE

If He Decides For Liberals Japan Will Begin to Move Away From German Militaristic Influences

By J. W. T. MASON
(Written for United Press)

The appointment of Crown Prince Hirohito as regent of Japan indicates an intention on the part of the Japanese throne to end the deadlock now prevailing among militarists and liberals in Tokio over the Washington conference policies.

Hirohito will be called upon immediately to give a momentous decision for or against democracy. The Japanese liberals want America's naval reduction program accepted. The militarists are insisting upon a ten per cent increase of the Japanese ratio. Hirohito will have to pronounce the final verdict in this struggle.

If he decides for the liberals Japan will definitely have begun to move away from German militaristic influences. A new era of freedom will be implied for Japan. If Hirohito endorses the reactionaries grave danger will confront America in the Pacific.

The decisions of the throne in Japan are final. It may be fortunate for the world that Hirohito has just returned home from a foreign tour. He has seen Democracy at work abroad.

It was recently announced by officials of the Japanese royal household that Hirohito's tour would lead to extension of liberalism in Japan. Hirohito is now called upon to make good that prediction.

Tokio, Nov. 26—Crown Prince Hirohito the 29 year old youth who has been named regent of Japan, assumes responsibility at a grave time.

The most important and far reaching decision—that of naval reduction—is before the government at the present time.

Whether Japan is to decide for reduction or is to continue the policy of naval armament demanding that higher ratio than that suggested by Secretary Hughes will probably be the first decision the crown prince must make.

While it is thought that several cabinet changes may be made as a result of the appointment of the crown prince, the Genro or military party on account of their influence in aiding in the crown prince's appointment, will probably beneath the surface, continue to wield the most important influence.

The Japanese cabinet may fall if armaments are not reduced. The people of Japan have the deep-rooted conviction that the Washington disarmament conference will be a success. The feeling that the cabinet may fall if failure looms is regarded as the best sign that an agreement between Japan and the United States will ultimately be reached.

Question Arises Whether Senators New Holding Appointive Positions May Resume Their Seat

MANY APPOINTIVE PLACES

Contest For Speaker's Chair Likely to be One of Most Interesting Events of Special Session

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Nov. 26—With a special legislature regarded as possible to straighten out the reformatory removal tangle, a question arose today as to the eligibility of senators and representatives who are now holding state appointive positions to resume their seats.

Jesse E. Eschbach, chief examiner of the state board of accounts, set a precedent for appointees stepping back into the general assembly when he presided as speaker over the house of representatives during the first special session of the Goodrich administration.

Senator Estes Duncan, father of the proposal to remove the reformatory from Jeffersonville, and chairman of the senate finance committee is now secretary of the state teachers retirement fund board. He was also a member of the removal commission appointed by the governor and whether he will go back to the senate was a question.

Others who have appointive places in the state employ are: Senator Maurice Douglas, democrat of Flat-rock, a member of the public service commission, and Representative Chester Davis, of Jay county republican attorney for the state fire marshal's office. Davis is being talked of speakership despite the fact there is a question as to his eligibility.

Contest for the speaker's chair likely will be one of the most interesting events of the special session inasmuch as it is regarded as a stepping stone to the regular session in 1923. The contest was brought on by the death of Speaker John McClure of Anderson. Among those mentioned in connection with the race are Jacob D. Miltenberger of Muncie; Claude A. Smith of Princeton; Glenn J. Harris of Gary and Otto Fifield of Crown Point.

U. S. Attorney to Take Action in Alleged $25,000,000 Rum Plot

Tiring of Jazz

New York, Nov. 25—Is America tiring of "jazz" music, as American popular music is termed?

That is a question which is engaging the attention of theatrical men and professional musicians, as well as the amusement seeking public in general as a result of the announcement of Oscar Rardin, conductor of "Blossom Time", a musical show based on incidents in the life of Franz Schubert, the celebrated composer, that his orchestra would play Schubert's celebrated "unfinished" Symphony as entracte music at the performances of the play.

Mr. Rardin states that it is the result of popular demand, for several strains from the symphony are employed as themes for the musical accompaniment of the operetta. Many of Schubert's songs are sung during the action of the piece including "Serenade" and others.

Lee, formerly editor of the Republican, who now lives in Passaic, New Jersey, will handle the publicity for the twelfth annual Good Roads Congress, which will be held in Chicago, January 17 to 20, 1922, according to word received by relatives here. He was in charge of publicity last year and was given credit for arousing more interest in the congress than ever before in its history.

Walsenburg, Colo., Nov. 26.—Although prohibited from holding mass meetings striking miners in the southern Colorado fields today declared that despite restrictions placed upon them by State Rangers, the strike against wage reductions of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company had "just begun." 400 YANKS LEAVE RHINE

Coblentz, Nov. 26.—Four hundred American troops, stationed on the Rhine since the end of the war, left Friday for home. The Americans left for Antwerp where they will embark for New York.
